Preko is the road and administration centre of the island of Ugljan, situated, as the name states, opposite Zadar. Its old centre consists of typical Dalmatian architecture and numerous patrician family summer houses. The best way to feel the Mediterranean atmosphere is by walking along the quay or sipping a favourite drink on one of the terraces with a view of the Zadar Channel. Only about 80 m from Preko lies the idyllic islet of Galevac (Školjić), covered with dense Mediterranean vegetation that shelters the 15th century valuable monastery of Franciscan friars of the third order. Its sandy beach makes it a popular swimming sight. The nearby cove rightfully carries the blue flag – a symbol of clear sea. The 11th century Romanesque church of St. John is situated on the eastern side of the locality, near the ferryboat landing.

Preko is the closest starting point for the excursion to St. Michael's fortress (265 m above sea level). The view from the fortress spreads over more than 200 islands of the archipelago of Zadar and Kornati National Park.

Kali is a place of the most famous fishermen on the Adriatic, who have shown their fishing abilities and seamanship on the world's seas. It is exceptionally particular because of the two little ports that are full of fishing-boats and fishermen who are on the pier, occupied with patching up their fishing nets. Kali is also known for the speech that is being used there, which is full of diphthongs, olive growing, fishing and general life on and with the sea, and people full of temperament, who fill many of their friends with enthusiasm. The old core of the town consisting of little narrow streets and houses made of stone in the Dalmatian style is situated on a hill, from where one can see a beautiful view of the surrounding area.

Above everything there is a church-tower of the baroque church of St. Lawrence, the patron saint of Kali. With St. Lawrence as their patron saint, each year in August a famous "Fishermen's feast" is being held in his honour and for both the tourists and the natives.

Kukljica is a picturesque tourist and fishing village on the island of Ugljan near Zadar and the island of Pasman, well connected to the mainland by car ferry. With a small marina, situated in a picturesque bay, Kukljica is a modern tourist resort offering excellent accommodation in well-designed rooms and suites in private houses and in tourist village "Zelena punta". Attractive sandy beaches shaded by centuries-old pinewood, Sabuša, Kostanj and Jelenica, can be found on both sides of the island. In the cove Kostanj there is a valuable historical monument, the renewed old church of St. Jerome from the 13th century.

The genuine attraction of Kukljica is the traditional procession by boat on the Feast of Our Lady of the Snow (5th of August), when the statue of Our Lady of the Snow is taken from the votive church of Our Lady of the Snow in the Zdreascica bay to the parish church of St. Paul dating from the 17th century.

Ugljan is one of the most picturesque islands in the Zadar archipelago. It lies opposite Zadar from which it is divided by only the few NM of the Zadar Channel. The surface of this eternally green island is covered by olive groves, idyllic coves and colourful fishing ports. More than two thousand years of traditional olive processing has left thousands of olive trees that offer oil of exceptional quality and aroma. Fishing and tourist localities extend along the eastern side of the island, among which the most well-known are Preko, Kukljica, Kali and Ugljan. The other side of the island is mainly uninhabited and steep. Most of the inhabitants of the island, around 7,500, deal mainly with olive growing, fishing and, of course, tourism. Geographical Cross-section View of the Island Ugljan lies parallel to the near mainland, it extends in the northwest-southeast direction, 24 km in length and 3-4 km in width. The total surface area of the island is 52 km<sup>2</sup>, and the length of the coastline is somewhat more than 70 km. The island relief is exceptionally mountainous.

There is an ancient Franciscan monastery from 1430 with simple gothic church from 1447. The cloister has interesting Roman columns.
